Ward's Majority in New-Jersey 3,600.

Heavy Senatorial Gains in New-York.

Good News From all the States.

The City.

No votes were counted at Police Headquarters for Supervisor or for The Act in relation to Bounties. The vote for Supervisor has little interest. THE BOUNTY ACT.

But as to the Act in relation to Bounties, through the kindness of Capt. Dickson of the Twenty-eighth Prerinet, we are enabled to give the following returns, which we compare with the whole number of votes given

If this be a fair specimen of the voting for the act it has received not less than 65,000 votes in this city. Prebably in some of the benighted districts the vote has not come up to this.

THE JUDICIARY.

The vote for judiciary had not been called off entirely at 6 a m., when operations ceased at headquarters, The contest for Superior Court was all on the side of Judge Robertson and Samuel Jones, Judge Monorief falling behind even the Republican candidates, though largely supported by Republicans. With the exception of Judge Monerief all the old Judges are reflected.

For the vacancy of four years in the Marine Court, Michael C. Gross, the Tammany candidate, is chosen by nearly 5,000 over Judge Dittenhoefer, the Repubican candidate, and by 8,000 or 9,000 over Bartholomew O'Connor, Mozort and McKeon.

VOTE FOR MAYOR OF BROOKLYN.

The following is the full vote cast for Mayor of Brooklyn, with the exception of the Sixth District of the Tenth Ward and the Second District of the Twentieth Ward. The canvassers in the Sixth District, it appears, became somewhat mixed up about 4 o'clock in the morning, leaving a clerk to perform their duties. The clerk, disliking the arrangement, gave the ballot-box, votes and poll-books to a policeman, who brought them to police headquarters, where they remained until afternoon, when they were again taken in charge by the canvassers. The result of their labors has not yet transpired. Excepting the vote of these Districts—(which will probably add some 300 to Mr. Booth's majority)—the vote for Mayor is as follows:
